PREFACE

Sad Vani, the first collection of the teaching of Sri Anandamayi Ma to appear in print, was published in the Bengali original and also in an English translation by Ganga Charan Das Gupta in 1935, about two years before Bhajji passed away. (The Shree Shree Anandamayee Sangha came into existence only in 1950).

When Mataji left Bengal for Dehradun in June 1932, Bholanath and Bhajji were her only companions. During the following two or three years Bhajji had a unique opportunity to listen to Mataji's words of wisdom. In those days Mataji would immediately become silent if anyone tried to take notes while she was talking. Therefore, Bhajji would write
